

Statement of Purpose - Cardiff University

Financial advisors today have a big say in the state of the world economy and where it might be headed. Accounting has always been a subject that I find fascinating. I believe that once one understands how problems are handled, solving them becomes interesting. Further to that, in this age of globalization and industrial growth, I find finance and management to be extremely interesting. The financial world has been impacted by technology, so I want to advance professional career by learning more about and understanding the financial realm. I believe that this accounting and finance course would be a better fit for me to begin my further studies given my interests and academic background. In this way, the programme will make it conceivable for me to acquire the knowledge and skills I'll really need to think about a career in banking institutions, investment firms, and any other industry that supports financial operations. I am very motivated to work in this industry on a global scale, so I want to pursue a Finance (MSc) at Cardiff University.

When I watched The Big Short, a movie about the investment banking sector as well as the significant shift in technology employed within the company and the rate at which corporations absorbed these technologies, I became interested in the topic of Finance and Investment Banking. In regards to my academics, I completed 10th in 2018 from Bhavan's A.H Wadia High School - Mumbai. I appeared for my 12th in 2020 from Sathaye College. Currently I am pursuing Bachelor of Commerce Accounting and Finance (BAF): Finance from M.L. Dahanukar College of Commerce - Mumbai. The course thoroughly explained financial management to me, helped me understand the role and importance of the finance function as a whole, and provided me with a foundational understanding of financial management that allowed me to communicate effectively by using common business terminologies.

Looking at my interest in fashion and jewelry I started my own venture known as Riya's Boutique during lockdown when whole world was online. I started this brand mainly to gain practical experience, Interest and surroundings favored for same. I was International Service Director of Rotaract Club of M.L. Dahanukar College of Commerce from July 2021 to June 2022 where I primarily focused on the international events and days and plan out activities and projects to promote these events among the people via Rotaract. Currently, I am the Joint Secretary of the Rotaract Club of M L Dahanukar College in which I am entrusted with the responsibility of assisting the secretary for smooth functioning of the club. In addition to this, I have participated in a number of other Clubs & Societies and held a variety of Leadership positions. I want to improve my career prospects by developing the necessary professional skills with my planned course.

The best way to complement my bachelor's degree would be to earn a Finance (MSc). It will help me understand the results of capital cost measurement, the theory and practice of financial regulations, the methodologies used for profitability indexes, and other topics. Additionally, it will improve my comprehension of and capacity for handling the dynamic nature of financial declaration strategies and their strategic planning. With the help of the curriculum module Investment Management, I will be able to comprehend and address the complex interactions between organizational accounting and finance challenges and looking to invest methods for growth, along with their monitoring and execution. Consequently, I will succeed there if I have a thorough understanding of all the various operational aspects of the finance industry. It will also assist me in better understanding investment management, which is the process of outlining an organization's long-term financial objectives and modifying operations.

I firmly believe that the Cardiff University curriculum initiative will spur me on to carry out more thorough research into the techniques and procedures that are currently employed in this field as well as those that are just starting to emerge in a more globally globalized one. This will help me conduct experiments, solve problems, and think creatively and critically. I would improve my industry knowledge and skills and gain a thorough understanding of this profession with the assistance of this faculty's beauty. Moreover, it is ranked 35 nationally in the Times and Sunday Times University Guide and 151 in the QS World University Rankings - is another strong argument in favor of choosing it. I will develop my technical knowledge and the teamwork, communication, and critical thinking skills necessary to succeed in a globally competitive economy with the help of the academic support offered by this university. Additionally, I will get academic assistance from knowledgeable thinkers who will incorporate me to a range of career options, enhancing my chances of growth in the industry.

I devoted a lot of time to learning about various countries and the advantages of studying there. But after giving it a lot of thought, I came to the conclusion that the United Kingdom would be the best location for me to finish my bachelor's. The UK possesses a few distinctive traits that live up to my expectations. It will give me better exposure because it is home to many financial institutions and professionals from around the world. The resources and knowledge that are available in the UK in particular will think about giving me a huge and significant opportunity for growth. I'm excited to use this opportunity to test my skills, learn from distinguished professors, and engage in conversation with other distinguished professors. Being able to study in the UK, one of the best countries in the world for pursuing higher education, would make me excited. My theoretical knowledge would be supplemented by my practical experience thanks to the practical teaching approach.

I'm hoping that enrolling in this course will give me the opportunity to gain more knowledge about accounting standards, fundamentals, and related subjects. I believe acquiring these skills will be beneficial for one to prosper and succeed in the corporate world. After completing the course, my immediate goal is to work in finance and investment banking as a Venture Capitalist with a focus on the technology industry. While starting my own investment consulting business with a focus on the creation of quantification models and techniques for hedge funds or portfolio managers is my long-term goal. To sum up, I have no doubt that using these learning resources will enable me to develop a fruitful professional career.
